“ My prayers are with James' family. He will be missed very much as he was such a good person, full of compassion. I think of the encouraging words, calls & visit during my battle with cancer, even though he was fighting this battle, himself, he always thought of others. What a courageous man. We were all blessed to know him.

We extend our sincerest condolences in the loss of James. We had known him for many years so it is like losing a family member. We loved him and prayed for his recovery but God knew best and now he is free of pain and is now with our Savior enjoying his new life in Heaven. May God bless each of you and be with you in the days ahead.
